PROJECT

SentinelEye: Intelligent Cyber Threat Detection and Analytics Dashboard

- Developed a real-time cyber threat intelligence dashboard using Flask and MongoDB to monitor and analyze security threats.
- Implemented data processing modules for detecting anomalies, suspicious activities, and threat indicators.
- Designed interactive dashboards and visualizations to present threat insights and attack patterns effectively

PlantScan: Paddy Leaf Disease Detection Using CNN

- Collected and preprocessed leaf images using techniques such as resizing, normalization, and augmentation.
- Trained a deep learning model to identify common paddy diseases based on visual symptoms like spots and discoloration.
- Implemented an image classification pipeline that provides accurate predictions and assists in early disease detection.
